Lincoln Was Tired.

During President Arthur's term, he, with Robert Lincoln and other members of his cabinet, took a trip through the south and west.

Abraham Lincoln was born in La Rue county, Ky., and a farmer living near his birthplace, known as Uncle Bob Hays, conceived the idea of cutting a cane on the old Lincoln place, now deserted and growing up to timber, and of presenting it to Mr. Lincoln on his arrival at Louisville.

Lincoln on his arrival at Louisville.

With great labor he prepared a speech and practiced it daily. Being very proud of it, and resolving it should be preserved, just before starting for Louisville he wrapped the manuscript around the cane and tied it with twine.

When the president's party arrived, Un-cle Bob followed them for hours, but could not get near them. But he kept as close as he could till they returned to the hotel and for a moment were alone in the wash-

Seizing his opportunity, he pushed through, closed the door, put his back against it to prevent interruption and began in a loud voice:

Startled, they looked up from their ablu-tions with dripping hands and faces.

"Mr. Lincoln—Dear Sir—I have the honor —as an humble representative of La Rue county-in the great commonwealth of Kentucky-the birthplace of your illustrious father-to present to you this cane-not for that great and good man-whose name is dear to all. Mr. Lincoln, in presenting this cane—ah—ah—Mr. Lincoln—in presenting this cane—I say—Mr. Lincoln, in presenting

Her Part.

He was young and literary and she burned with cothusiasm to help him with his work. He desired her help more than anything on earth, except herself, but she, alast was not literary. She confessed plaintively that even her prize essay had been written by another girl. What was to be done?

In an unlucky moment she read a novel by two well known writers—the one a lady and the other a gentleman. That settled it. Collaboration became the dream of her life. Deep literary discussions followed day by day, and at length an understanding was effected. The collaboration was to last their lifetime and was to begin immediately.

The next day she announced confidentially to a bosom friend, "George and I are writing a novel."

The friend was deeply interested. "How do you manage; it—with alternate characters and more than a side and a complete the side of the court not be side of the court on the first day of the next term thereof to be holden in the court mouse in the city of 6 bock I-land, in said lice kiels and county, on the first Monday of J many e t, to which the early place the said smooth of the friend was deeply interested. Saved From Suffering.

The Gratitude of a Lady Cured by Kickapoo Indian Sagwa.

DANVILLE, ILL., Oct. 28.

I feel it my duty to express my gratitude for what the Kickapoo Indian Remedies have done for me.

I was suffering with Neuralgia, and had to stay up every night for weeks. At last I sent for a bottle of Kickapoo Indian Oil, and in less than ten minutes after application I was relieved. I cordinued its use and also used Kickapoo Indian Sagwa at the same time until Entirely Curod.

Many of my friends have used your Remedies for different troubles, and find them to do exactly as advertised. DANVILLE, ILL., Oct. 28.

Remedies for different troubles, and find them to do exactly as advertised. I believe everybody who is suffering should use them, as we are all brothers and sisters in Christ. I will answer any questions as to what with the help of God they have done for me.

Yours respectfully, EVA DECAMP.
